When did Charlie Chaplin First Perform?

Charlie Chaplin began acting and making people laugh at the young age of five. As a child, he was in bed for weeks due to a serious illness. At night, his mother would sit at the window and act out what was going on outside. She was the only person who made him happy in his young life and he loved his mother dearly.

His mother used to sing in the music hall. She used to sing songs on the stage. One day while she was singing, something happened to her voice and she had to run off the stage.

Little Charlie Chaplin then ran on stage and began singing a well-known song. Halfway through his singing, the people in the music hall liked his singing. They threw a lot of money on the stage. The young boy stopped singing, picked up all the money and then continued to sing. The audience roared with laughter and thus began his first comical stage show.
